ABSTRACT

The 1978 statistical report of member institutions of the United Negro College Fund is presented. Data are provided on enrollment, degrees granted, faculty, and institutional and student finances for the 41 member institutions, which are private, accredited, predominantly black colleges and universities. Total enrollment at member institutions, including summer school and additional spring semester students, is approximately 50,000 students. Total 1977 enrollment data for the institutions are provided for freshman, undergraduate and graduate students, white students, and males and females. Appendices provide enrollment data for 1974-77 by individual institutions. Information is provided on the level and types of degrees offered and educational plans of students, and appendices provide data for 1976-77. Data are provided on total faculty, faculty by degrees, student-faculty ratio, faculty compensation, fund revenues and expenditures, surpluses and deficits, endowment, average charges to students, and parental income. ## INTRODUCTION

The United Negro College Fund's Annual Statistical Report is a compilation of the most recent statistical information on its forty-one member institutions. All of the member institutions are private, accredited, predominantly black colleges and universities. Thirty-nine of the member institutions offer baccalaureate degree programs while two (Atlanta University and the Interdenominational Theological Center) offer graduate degree studies exclusively. Several of the member institutions, including Fisk, Tuskegee and Xavier, offer graduate programs in addition to their undergraduate curricula.

The member colleges and universities of the United Negro College Fund comprise all of the private, fully-accredited, predominantly black colleges and universities in the nation except Hampton Institute and Meharry Medical College.

The forty-one UNCF member institutions have special significance because of their traditional and continuing role in educating minority group students for productive and creative participation in American life. During the past century, the private black colleges have provided education otherwise unavailable to thousands of able and deserving youths. The alumni of these institutions comprise most of the black leadership in America today.

Method:

The statistical information included was obtained from the UNCF questionnaires which are sent annually to each of the member institutions.

Enrollment data used in the report is based on the fall of each academic year to facilitate comparisons with other institutions.

Fall enrollment data excludes summer school students and students who did not enroll until the spring semester. Total enrollment at UNCF institutions, including summer school and additional spring semester students, is approximately 50,000 students.

Acknowledgements

Acknowledgement is gratefully given to Mr. Christopher F. Edley, Executive Director of the United Negro College Fund, for his thoughtful interest and advice; to Mrs. Yvonne Parris for compiling the data; to the UNCF Word Processing Center for typing the manuscript; and to the numerous personnel at the member institutions who responded to the UNCF Questionnaire.

ENROLLMENT

The ability to attract students is one of the most significant marks of a healthy college or university. Diversity in terms of geographic and racial mix are also significant factors. Conversely, declining enrollment is probably the most important indication of impending or actual distress. In this section, we review trends in enrollment at the private black colleges comprising the United Negro College Fund membership.

Fall, 1977 Enrollment

Total enrollment at UNCF colleges and universities rose 2.8% between fall, 1976 and fall, 1977--from 45,214 to 46,464. This marked the third consecutive year that fall enrollments were up at UNCF institutions. The 2.8% enrollment increase continues the consistent pattern of growth experienced by the private black colleges in the mid-seventies and builds on a 7.5% increase experienced the previous year.

Fall Enrollment
UNCF Institutions

| | Fall 1974 | Fall 1975 | Fall 1976 | Fall 1977 |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Total Enrollment | 41,113 | 42,040 | 45,214 | 46,464 |
| % Change | | +2.3% | +7.5% | +2.8% |

More than half (23) of the UNCF member colleges experienced enrollment increases between fall, 1975 and fall, 1977.

Freshmen Enrollment

The number of first-time freshmen at private black colleges increased 12.4% between fall, 1976 and fall, 1977. Total freshmen enrollment in the fall, 1977 was 14,781, compared with 13,153 the previous year.

Freshmen Enrollment
UNCF Institutions

| | Fall 1975 | Fall 1976 | Fall 1977 |
|---|---|---|---|
| Total Freshmen Enrollment | 13,359 | 13,153 | 14,781 |
| % Change | | -2.4% | +12.4% |

Twenty-four of the thirty-nine undergraduate UNCF institutions increased their first-time freshmen enrollments over the previous year.

UNCF and Private Enrollments Nationally

UNCF enrollment kept pace with the national percentage increase for private colleges and universities. Preliminary data released by the National Center for Education Statistics indicate that private college and university enrollments nationally increased 3.3% between fall, 1976 and fall, 1977, compared to the 2.8% increase reported by the private black colleges and universities comprising the United Negro College Fund.

Private colleges and universities nationally experienced a 0.8% decline in admission of first-time freshmen, compared to the 12.4% increase at the private black colleges.

Undergraduate Enrollment

The undergraduate enrollments at the private black colleges have consistently increased in recent years. Since fall, 1973, undergraduate enrollments have increased 25.7% on UNCF campuses and 10.3% since fall, 1975. The increase in UNCF enrollments belies the often stated assumption that the utility of black colleges would diminish as black enrollment developed a more national pattern.

| | Fall 1973 | Fall 1975 | Fall 1977 |
|---|---|---|---|
| Undergraduate Student Enrollment | 35,498 | 40,457 | 44,627 |
| % Change | | +14.0% | +10.3% |

Graduate Student Enrollment

Because of the relatively few graduate programs found on private black college campuses, the enrollment of graduate students is subject to considerable fluctuation. While enrollment of graduate students is up 6.9% over fall, 1975, graduate student enrollment is down 10.1% between fall, 1976 and 1977.

| % Change | | +15.1% | -15.8% | +29.0% | -10.8% |

White Students

The enrollment of white students on UNCF campuses continued to fluctuate, largely due to the part-time status of many of the students. A total of 678 white students were enrolled in the fall, 1977, a 70% increase over fall, 1975 but a 12% decrease over fall, 1976.

|---|---|---|---|
| Total White Student Enrollment | 399 | 770 | 679 |
| % Change | | +93.0% | -11.9% |

Male - Female

More women attend UNCF institutions than men. The difference has remained relatively constant during the past four years with males comprising 46% of the student population, and females 54%.

Students By Sex
UNCF Institutions

| | Male | Female |
|---|---|---|
| Fall 1974 | 46.0 | 54.0 |
| Fall 1975 | 46.4 | 53.6 |
| Fall 1976 | 46.1 | 53.9 |
| Fall 1977 | 46.2 | 53.8 |

Geographical Distribution

UNCF institutions continue to undergird their traditional, national and international scope in terms of their student enrollments. While all but one of the institutions (Wilberforce) are located in the South and the majority of students enrolled are from the South, the number of students from outside of this region has increased in recent years.

In fall, 1977, the percentage of students attending UNCF colleges from the northeastern, central and western states as well as from foreign countries all experienced increases over the previous year. Almost one-third of UNCF students in fall, 1977 came from outside the southeastern states.

Geographical Distribution of UNCF Students

| Region[1] | 1973 | 1974 | 1976 | 1977 |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Northeast | 10.2 | 10.2 | 10.0 | 10.5 |
| Central | 6.9 | 7.6 | 6.9 | 8.2 |
| Southeast | 71.9 | 72.1 | 72.9 | 69.1 |
| West | 7.6 | 8.3 | 6.6 | 8.1 |
| U.S. Possession | 0.2 | 0.1 | 0.2 | 0.2 |
| Foreign | 3.2 | 1.4 | 3.4 | 4.0 |

Foreign students who have for many years been attracted to UNCF colleges are accelerating their enrollment. In fall, 1977, 4% of UNCF students came from foreign nations, a total of 1,791 students.

DEGREES GRANTED

An analysis of the level and types of degrees awarded by UNCF institutions affords still another body of evidence of the kinds of education now provided for their students. Information about the degrees they award reveals more about the institutional purposes and services than the figures presented on enrollment, for degrees indicate the number of students who were actually successful in completing a full college program.

Undergraduate & Graduate Degrees

The number of earned academic degrees decreased significantly in 1977, compared with earlier years. A total of 6,530 degrees were awarded in 1977 at UNCF institutions. Approximately 10% of the degrees awarded were graduate degrees (659), two-thirds of which were earned at UNCF's two graduate institutions (Atlanta University and Interdenominational Theological Center).

A possible explanation for the decrease in degrees granted is the large percentage of students from economically disadvantaged backgrounds attending UNCF institutions in recent years. These institutions tend to have higher attrition rates. In addition, many UNCF colleges have upgraded academic standards causing more students to drop out than in previous years.

Degrees Awarded
UNCF Institutions

| | 1973 | 1975 | 1977 |
|---|---|---|---|
| Degrees | 7,754 | 7,622 | 6,530 |
| % Change | | -1.7% | -14.3% |

Degrees Granted by Major

UNCF institutions have diversified their curricula in the past several years to meet the newer distribution of professional job opportunities for blacks in the labor market.

Almost one-fourth of the degrees earned were in business administration, roughly three times the percentage of graduates receiving business degrees in 1970. Fifteen UNCF institutions offered and awarded degrees in the health professions in 1976-77, compared to only two in 1969-70; the number of communications majors jumped from 22 in 1974-75 to over 100 in 1976-77 with three colleges awarding degrees in journalism, two in radio and TV and seven in speech and drama; and twenty-five UNCF colleges established dual-degree engineering programs since 1966, to enable their students to earn engineering degrees at cooperating engineering schools. A total of 774 students participated in the dual-degree engineering program at UNCF colleges. With the decline in the demand for teachers in recent years, the percentage of degrees in education has decreased from over 40% in 1969-70 to under 25% in 1976-77.

In sum, the private predominantly black colleges comprising the United Negro College Fund are gradually becoming more multipurpose institutions with enriched curricular offerings to strengthen their institutional programs. The additions and expansions in curricula are extending educational opportunity to thousands of individual students and are enhancing their potential contribution to American society.

Educational Goals

Prospective applicants to UNCF institutions were surveyed to ascertain their degree aspirations and intended areas of study. Fifty percent of prospective UNCF freshmen for fall, 1977 indicated that they plan to pursue an M.A., M.S., M.D., Ph.D., or some other professional degree. Nationally, only forty percent of prospective freshmen aspired to graduate study.[2]

Educational Goals
Prospective Freshmen
Fall, 1977

| | Prospective UNCF Freshmen | College-Bound Seniors Nationally |
|---|---|---|
| Two-year Training Program | 3% | 4% |
| Associate Degree | 2 | 2 |
| B.A. or B.S. Degree | 23 | 30 |
| M.A. or M.S. Degree | 29 | 22 |
| M.D., Ph.D., Other Professional Degree | 21 | 18 |
| Undecided | 22 | 23 |

Business and commerce was the most popular intended area of study for prospective UNCF freshmen, followed by the health and medical fields, education and the social sciences. Business and commerce increased from 16.7% of prospective fall, 1976 freshmen to 18.4% of prospective freshmen in 1977. Education was down slightly--from 14.4% to 13.7% between fall, 1976 and 1977; and communications increased from 4.7% to 5.1% for fall, 1977.

Intended Areas of Study
Prospective Freshmen

| Area of Study | Fall 1976 | Fall 1977 |
|---|---|---|
| Art | 3.6 | 3.6 |
| Biology | 2.7 | 2.5 |
| Business & Commerce | 16.7 | 18.4 |
| Communications | 4.7 | 5.1 |
| Computer Science | 3.0 | 2.9 |
| Education | 14.4 | 13.7 |
| Engineering | 3.9 | 3.9 |
| English/Literature | 1.9 | 1.6 |
| Health & Medical | 16.0 | 16.3 |
| History | 1.3 | .7 |
| Home Economics | 1.3 | 1.2 |
| Mathematics | 1.4 | 1.3 |
| Music | 3.0 | 3.1 |
| Psychology | 5.9 | 5.4 |
| Social Sciences | 10.2 | 11.1 |
| Theater Arts | 1.1 | 1.3 |
| Undecided | 3.0 | 2.3 |
| Other | 5.8 | 5.6 |

Similarities appear to exist between trends in intended areas of study for prospective UNCF freshmen and in degrees granted at UNCF institutions. In both cases, business and commerce experienced substantial increases in representation, while education declined slightly. If present trends continue, business and commerce will soon be the most popular degree awarded at the private black colleges, replacing the traditionally more popular teaching degree.

THE FACULTY

The private predominantly black colleges and universities within the United Negro College Fund are essentially teaching institutions as opposed to research institutions. In particular, their primary services are related to the teaching of undergraduate students. In this chapter, we analyze the faculties in terms of their degrees held, their racial composition, their compensation, and their numbers relative to students.

Total Faculty

The number of faculty at UNCF institutions has not been able to keep pace with the growth of enrollment over the years since 1974-75. During this period, enrollment increased 13.0% while the number of faculty increased only 3.7%. The total number of faculty at UNCF institutions in 1977-78 was 3,013. Approximately 65% of the faculty was black, 35% nonblack.

Faculty by Degrees

The percentage of faculty members having Ph.D. degrees rose to 40.7% at the private black colleges within UNCF. Excluding UNCF's two graduate institutions, 39.3% of the UNCF undergraduate faculty held Ph.D.'s.

Between 1974-75 and 1977-78, the percentage of UNCF faculty holding Ph.D. degrees rose from 40.2% to 40.7%.

Student-Faculty Ratio

The ratio of students to faculty is approximately the same at private black colleges and private colleges nationally. Since the number of faculty at UNCF institutions was not able to keep pace with the enrollment growth, the student-faculty ratio rose from 14.1:1 in 1976-77 to 15.4:1 in 1977-78. The 1976-77 ratio of 14.1:1 compares favorably to the 15.0:1 ratio experienced by private liberal arts colleges nationally during the same year, the most recent year for which data is available.[3]

Total Faculty, Faculty by Degrees and Student-Faculty Ratio
UNCF Institutions

| | # of Faculty | % Ph.Ds | Student-Faculty Ratio |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1974-75 | 2,906 | 40.2% | 14.1:1 |
| 1976-77 | 3,036 | 39.1% | 14:1:1 |
| 1977-78 | 3,013 | 40.7% | 15:4:1 |

Faculty Compensation

During the past year, faculty salaries at UNCF institutions increased for associate professors, assistant professors and instructors. The average salary of full professors decreased slightly. The largest percentage increases were in the lower ranks.

Faculty Compensation
UNCF Institutions

| | 1976-77 | 1977-78 | % Change |
|---|---|---|---|
| Professor | $16,371 | $16,200 | -1.0 |
| Associate Professor | 13,247 | 13,800 | +4.2 |
| Assistant Professor | 11,716 | 12,2[illegible] | +4.5 |
| Instructor | 10,010 | 10,5[illegible] | +5.6 |

Between 1974-75 and 1976-77, the salaries of faculty at UNCF institutions gained ground relative to faculty salaries at colleges in the South Atlantic states (where most of UNCF's colleges are located).[4] The average salary increase for the two-year period at UNCF institutions was 7.9%, while only 3.8% at all colleges in the South Atlantic region. While each academic rank at UNCF institutions increased salaries by a larger percentage than colleges in the South, the salaries remain significantly below the average for all colleges in the South Atlantic region.

The 7.9% average salary increase at UNCF colleges between 1974-75 and 1976-77 is slightly less than the increase of 9.2% during the previous two-year period, 1972-73 and 1974-75.

Average Faculty Salaries
UNCF Institutions

| | 1974-75 | 1976-77 | % Change |
|---|---|---|---|
| Professor | $14,651 | $16,371 | +11.7 |
| Associate Professor | 12,651 | 13,247 | +5.5 |
| Assistant Professor | 10,936 | 11,716 | +7.1 |
| Instructor | 9,343 | 10,010 | +7.1 |
| Average | $11,895 | $12,836 | +7.9 |

South Atlantic Region
(All Institutions)

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Professor | $19,920 | $20,400 | +2.4 |
| Associate Professor | 16,280 | 16,770 | +3.0 |
| Assistant Professor | 13,370 | 14,040 | +5.0 |
| Instructor | 10,930 | 11,460 | +4.8 |
| Average | $15,125 | $15,668 | +3.8 |

In summary, UNCF faculties are providing a valuable product to their students. The generous student-faculty ratio at UNCF institutions provides students with a greater opportunity to see educated adults up close. The large percentage of faculty with Ph.D.s is particularly unusual for smaller colleges such as those within UNCF. Whatever kind of education is being provided, it is likely that for certain kinds of young people at UNCF institutions and elsewhere, it may be more constructive and helpful for them to have close, personal contact with highly qualified teachers, than exposure to professors holding forth in a lecture hall with one-hundred or more students.

INSTITUTIONAL AND STUDENT FINANCES

In this chapter, several topics are brought together bearing on the financial position of UNCF students and institutions. These include operating revenues and expenditures, endowment, student charges, and parental income.

Current Fund Revenues

The private black colleges experienced significant variations in the percentage distribution of educational and general revenues between 1973-74 and 1976-77. UNCF institutions increased their relative proportions of revenues from tuition and fees (from 33.9% in 1973-74 to 37.7% in 1976-77) and from governmental appropriations (from 27.6% in 1973-74 to 30.3% in 1976-77). The proportion of revenues from private gifts and grants decreased from 26.0% in 1973-74 to 21.0% in 1976-77.

Percentage Distribution of Governmental & General Revenues
UNCF Institutions

| | 1973-74 | 1976-77 |
|---|---|---|
| Tuition & Fees | 33.9% | 37.7% |
| Governmental Appropriations & Grants | 27.6 | 30.3 |
| Private Gifts & Grants | 26.0 | 21.0 |
| Endowment Income | 3.6 | 3.1 |
| Other | 9.2 | 7.9 |
| | 100 | 100 |

Despite an increase in the proportionate share of revenue support from tuition and fees, UNCF institutions still receive a considerably smaller percentage of tuition support than similarly situated private colleges nationally. In 1976-77, 37.7% of total revenue support at UNCF colleges came from tuition and fees compared to 63% at other similarly situated private liberal arts colleges.[5]

Conversely, UNCF colleges received a larger percentage of revenue support from governmental sources than similarly situated private colleges, 30.3% compared to 13%, and a larger proportion of revenue from private gifts and grants, 21% compared to 16%. It appears that the increase in federal aid largely reflects the increased financial aid needs of the students attending private black colleges.

Average revenues per UNCF institution failed to keep pace with the combined effects of inflation and enrollment growth experienced by the private black colleges between 1975-76 and 1976-77. Total average revenue at a UNCF institution rose 8.1% in this period while inflation increased 6.5% and enrollment rose 7.5%.

Revenues per student increased less than 1% between 1975-76 and 1976-77 when inflation increased 6.5%.

Failure to keep pace with the combined effects of inflation and enrollment growth makes the job of substantially improving academic quality and faculty compensation nearly impossible. Additional revenues must be generated beyond existing increases to meet these costs.

Revenues and Expenditures
UNCF Institutions

| | 1974-75 | 1975-76 | 1976-77 |
|---|---|---|---|
| Average Revenues Per UNCF Institution | $4,797,710 | $5,376,636 | $5,811,039 |
| % Change | | +12.1% | +8.1% |
| Average Expenditures Per UNCF Institution | $4,806,922 | $5,334,862 | $5,776,585 |
| % Change | | +11.0% | +8.3% |
| Inflation Rate | | + 7.0% | +6.5% |
| Enrollment Change | | + 2.3% | +7.5% |
| Revenues Per Student | $4,788 | $5,245 | $5,273 |
| % Change | | + 9.5% | +0.5% |

The real issue for the private black colleges and universities is whether they will be able to find resources in amounts that keep pace with rising costs, new program development and salary improvements. Further increases in tuition would discourage and deprive large numbers of UNCF students from attending college. Cutting costs below already low levels could seriously diminish the attractiveness and effectiveness of the colleges. The situation suggests a clear need for additional capital in order to meet rising costs, and gives impetus to UNCF's current Capital Fund Drive.

Current Fund Expenditures

Perhaps the main characteristic of the distribution of expenditures at the private black colleges is the stability of their expenditure patterns. Between 1973-74 and 1976-77, there was a slight drop in the relative amount spent on instruction and research, while the proportion spent for student financial aid increased. Apart from this, however, there were virtually no significant changes in the expenditure patterns of the private black colleges.

Percentage Distribution of Educational and General Expenditures
UNCF Institutions

| | 1973-74 | 1976-77 |
|---|---|---|
| Instruction and Research | 37.4% | 33.5% |
| Libraries | 3.8 | 3.1 |
| Student Services | 7.8 | 8.0 |
| General Administration | 13.9 | 12.9 |
| Plants & Operations | 10.1 | 10.5 |
| Student Financial Aid | 16.0 | 18.6 |
| Other | 12.1 | 14.2 |

Compared to similarly situated private colleges nationally, the private, predominantly black colleges spent proportionately more on student financial aid (18.6% compared to 13.0%) in 1976-77, and less on instruction and research (33.5% compared to 36.2%).[6]

Surpluses and Deficits

Since 1974-75, the financial position of the private black colleges with regard to current fund budget deficits significantly improved. In 1974-75, 49% of UNCF institutions experienced budget deficits, compared to 30% in 1975-76 and 27.5% in 1976-77.

While studying budget deficits does not paint a definitive picture of the health of colleges, it does present some indication of more sound financial management and less chronic financial distress.

Endowment

Total market value of endowment at UNCF institutions rose from $98,897,500 in 1975-76 to $115,493,001 in 1976-77, a 16.8% increase.

The increase, however, was offset partially by the increase in enrollment at the private black colleges. The endowment per student at UNCF institutions increased from $2,352 in 1975-76 to $2,554 in 1976-77, an 8.6% increase. At private, four-year colleges nationally, the endowment per student was $4,958 in 1975-76 (the most recent figure available), more than half the average for UNCF institutions in that same year.[7]

Average Charges to Students

The average tuition at UNCF institutions in 1978-79 will be two-thirds the national average for private four-year colleges, and room and board will be approximately 82% of the national mean.[8]

With books and supplies included, the total average cost of attending a UNCF college in 1978-79 will be $3,216. UNCF institutions would have to raise their tuitions over $880 and their room and board charges almost $200 to meet the averages for private colleges nationally. Since the vast majority of UNCF students come from low-income families and require financial aid to attend college, the results of any cost increases could prove tragic for substantial numbers of these students.

Average Charges to Students
UNCF & Private Colleges Nationally
1978-1979

| Budget Item | UNCF Institutions | Private Colleges Nationally |
|---|---|---|
| Tuition | $1,767 | $2,647 |
| Room & Board | 1,258 | 1,536 |
| Books & Supplies | 191 | 222 |
| Total | $3,216 | $4,405 |

There is a good reason that UNCF college costs are lower--the students who attend these colleges typically cannot afford to pay higher costs.

Parental Income

Almost two out of five UNCF students came from families whose total annual incomes were less than $5,000 in 1977. Three-fourths of UNCF students had family incomes under $10,000 per year, while only 3% came from families with incomes over $20,000 per year. Nationally, only 15% of private college students in 1977 came from families earning less than $10,000 per year, and 52% came from families earning over $20,000 per year.

Parents' ability to pay for higher education is perhaps a more useful indicator than parental income of actual ability to afford college costs. A survey of fall, 1977 prospective applicants to UNCF institutions found that there is a striking difference in parents' ability to pay for higher education between prospective UNCF applicants and college-bound seniors nationally. According to College Scholarship Service standards, the median expected parental contribution of prospective UNCF freshmen is zero dollars. In other words, for at least half of the prospective UNCF freshmen, total financial assistance is required for these students to attend college. In comparison, the median expected parental contribution of 1977 college-bound seniors nationally was $1,200. The mean or average expected parental contribution for prospective UNCF freshmen was $730, or roughly one-third of the $2,210 mean expected contribution from the parents of college-bound seniors nationally.
